Tips for the introductory week and general assembly:

1. It will be great if you get an opportunity to give a welcome speech during the introductory week.
2. ISU will play a great role for the students if they will see ISU members as a team (by means of common clothes, like ISU-t-shirt, a scarf etc.)
3. ISU will provide the ISU poster to all the branches. The National ISU has decided on the official color of ISU (blue), which should be used for the leaflets, newsletters etc. This color will function as a mark of ISU.
4. ISU National has prepared templates for information leaflets about ISU and the General Assembly. Edit the content of the leaflets to fit the needs of your particular branch and include them in the folders that are distributed to new international students.
5. During the introductory week ISU should advertise the General Assembly (GA) (with more than just leaflets) during introductory week. Remember that the students must have at least 2 week notice before elections. Combine good information with incentives like good location, complementary food (waffles, pizza, barbecue) or social events (eg. a movie)
